Which Publishing Path

is Best for You?

TAKE THE FREE QUIZ AND FIND OUT!

Are you dreaming of publishing your book—but feeling overwhelmed by conflicting advice?

You're not alone.

Many aspiring authors face imposter syndrome, self-doubt, and confusion about where to start and how to avoid being taken advantage of. There are so many predatory publishers!

I've been there too.

But the good news? You don't have to figure it all out on your own.

This short quiz will help you cut through the noise and discover the best publishing path for your unique situation — whether that's self-study, group coaching, 1:1 support, or a done-for-you service.

This isn't about forcing you into someone else's formula.
It's about finding the righ fit for your personal goals, learning style, and budget.

By the end you'll walk away with:

- ✅ A clear next step
- ✅ Trusted resources to support you
- ✅ A plan that helps you keep 100% of your royalties
- ✅ And confidence to publish a book you're proud of

🎉 Ready to find your publishing path with clarity and confidence?

Your Publishing Persona

THE PIONEER

What That Means

As a PIONEER, you are confident in your skills and abilities and brave enough to blaze a new trail. You push yourself outside your comfort zone and like learning new things. You prefer to do your own research and learn online through self-study but sometimes appreciate workgroups and additional 1:1 coaching. As a PIONEER, you are also thrifty and work hard to be more self-sufficient and save money. You have good technical skills and are very intelligent. When you run into issues, you'll need to remind yourself that it is okay to ask for help.

Path

Our recommended path for self-directed learners is to start with the Self-Publishing Jump Start to get an overview of self-publishing along with a roadmap, budget template, and our self-publishing checklist. You'll also want to follow us on YouTube (Self-Publishing Made Simple with April Cox) so you can be notified when I'm live or when new videos post. There are helpful walk-throughs, interviews and more to help you along your journey. Depending on your current level of expertise, you may also want to consider the Mastermind membership. to get access to drop-in sessions and discounted programs and services. You'll find links on the Thank You Page .

Regarding Your Budget:

Book publishing can be done on a shoestring budget, but it's not easy. You'll need to do much of the activities yourself in order to stick to a budget of $2k or less. Download our free budget spreadsheet (link is on the Thank You page). This will help you walk through a reasonable budget, calculating what you will be able to do yourself, and what things you'll need to pay for. You may want to consider funding some of your project through crowd-funding like Kickstarter. There are a number of videos about Kickstarter on Self-Publishing Made Simple with April Cox (YouTube channel). Drop in to our open Q&A or Mastermind sessions to get your project questions answered and to

Your Availability:

Availability of 3-5 hours per week is not bad at all. Time does fly when you're having fun, so if you're working against a deadline and want to make sure you finish on time, you will want to consider getting some additional help. For example, a Project Manager, Virtual Assistant, Social Media, or Book Marketing Expert can be a great supplement so you can spend your time doing what you love most. You can also grab some coaching/mentoring time so that you can reduce the time it takes to learn the publishing. That means quicker results and less wasted time. Grab a Free Discovery Call or drop in to our open Q&A or Mastermind meetings to get your questions answered. This should not be

Your Technical Skills:

Jotform

Create your own Jotform

You may be tech challenged or just a beginner, but working on your self-publishing will help you grow your knowledge over time. We have a number of drop-in sessions where you can get some additional help, or you can find a helper at home to overcome some of the challenges with learning a new platform (or two). We have had people who could barely turn on a computer that now are managing their own publishing projects, running ads, and even updating their own website. Personal 1:1 coaching hours can be a great way to learn without stress or others watching while you try to figure out how to "Share" your screen. Check out the links on the next page for more info.

Summary & Next Steps

You have shared your goals, challenges, and much more. Take some tme to set up a Free Discovery Call to walk through it with a member of our team and get your questions answered. The outcome is a personalized path to self-publishing your book, and more direction on how to use some of our free and paid resources to help you take some giant steps forward. You'll find the link and more info on the Thank You page. We look forward to meeting you!

How would you rank the quiz results?

with 1-Star being not at all helpful or accurate and 5-Stars being highly accurate and helpful to identify your next steps and tools to help you move forward.

Select 1 to 5 Stars *

Why did you rank it like this (positives/negatives)? *

This is great.
